1. The Political Committee of the Partido Socialista Popular (PSP, Cuban Communist Party) has completed a study of its various front or collateral groups to determine which ones can continue to operate and infiltrate official organizations of a similar nature. One of the first groups to be used for this purpose is the "Comite de Amas de Casas" (Housekeepers' Committee), which is about to receive official blessing from the Consultative Council, inasmuch as the latter body is going to proclaim an official "Housekeepers' Day," acknowledging the efforts of that committee in the matter and recognizing it as the organizer of such celebrations. Plans for the use of other groups along similar lines are in the advanced stage.
2. The united-front movement continues to be furthered by the Communists, and a national congress has been scheduled for 20 March 1954 in the hall of the Plasterers' Union, located on Calle Xifres in Habana, Cuba. Delegates from all parts of Cuba will attend. On the pretext that the movement seeks a solution to the present political situation in Cuba, many persons, affiliates of other political parties, have joined the movement without being aware that it is Communist-inspired and controlled.
